EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Anastasia Zhadina on 02/05/2007.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1 (currently amended) A reproduction apparatus comprising: enlarging processing means for enlarging a desired area of an image displayed on a screen; and control means for changing operation characteristics of said enlarging processing means in accordance with whether the image is a moving image or a still image, wherein said enlarging processing means includes enlarging range shifting means for shifting a range of an image to be subjected to an enlargement process, and wherein said control means changes a time duration from a start of an operation of shifting the range of the image to be enlarged by said enlarging range shifting means to an actual start of an enlarging range shift, in accordance with whether the screen is in a moving image display state or a still image display state.

Claim 2 is cancelled.

Claim 3 (currently amended) A reproduction apparatus according to claim 2 1, wherein said enlarging range shifting means changes a position, range and magnification of the image to be enlarged.

Art Unit: 2622

Claim 4 (currently amended) A reproduction apparatus according to claim 1, wherein said control means sets short a the time duration from a the start of an the operation of shifting a the range of an the image to be enlarged by said enlarging range shifting means to an the actual start of an the enlarging range shift, in the moving image display state, and sets long the time duration from a the start of an the operation of shifting a the range of an the image to be enlarging enlarged by said enlarging range shifting means to an the actual start of an enlarging range shift, in the still image display state.

Claim 9 (currently amended) A computer-executable control program stored on a computer-readable storage medium comprising a program code causing a computer to control for a reproduction apparatus to perform a method for reproducing a moving image and a still image, the control program method comprising the steps of: a process of reproducing an image by reproducing means; a process of enlarging an image reproduced by said reproducing means; a process of setting an enlarging range of the image by enlarging range shifting means for shifting a range of an image to be enlarged by enlarging means; and a process of changing operation characteristics of said enlarging range shifting means in accordance with whether said reproducing means is in a moving image reproduction state or a moving image reproduction temporary stop state.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, no prior art could be located that teaches or fairly suggests changing a time duration from a start of an operation of shifting the range of an image to be enlarged by said enlarging range shifting means to an actual start of an enlarging range shift, in accordance with whether the screen is in a moving image display state or a still image display state in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

Regarding claims 3 and 4, these claims depend on claim 1 and therefore are allowed.

Regarding claim 5, no prior art could be located the teaches or fairly suggests changing operations characteristics of an enlarging range shifting means in accordance with whether a reproducing means is in a moving image reproduction state or moving image reproduction temporary stop state in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

Regarding claims 6-8, these claims depend on claim 5 and therefore are allowed.

Regarding claim 9, no prior art could be located the teaches or fairly suggests changing operations characteristics of an enlarging range shifting means in accordance with whether a reproducing means is in a moving image reproduction state or moving image reproduction temporary stop state in combination with the rest of the limitations of the claim.

Regarding claims 10-12, these claims depend on claim 9 and therefore are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
